

The darker the shade of the country, the higher the prevalence of malaria deaths in that country. By positioning the cursor over the country of interest, it would show the levels of deaths by malaria in that country.

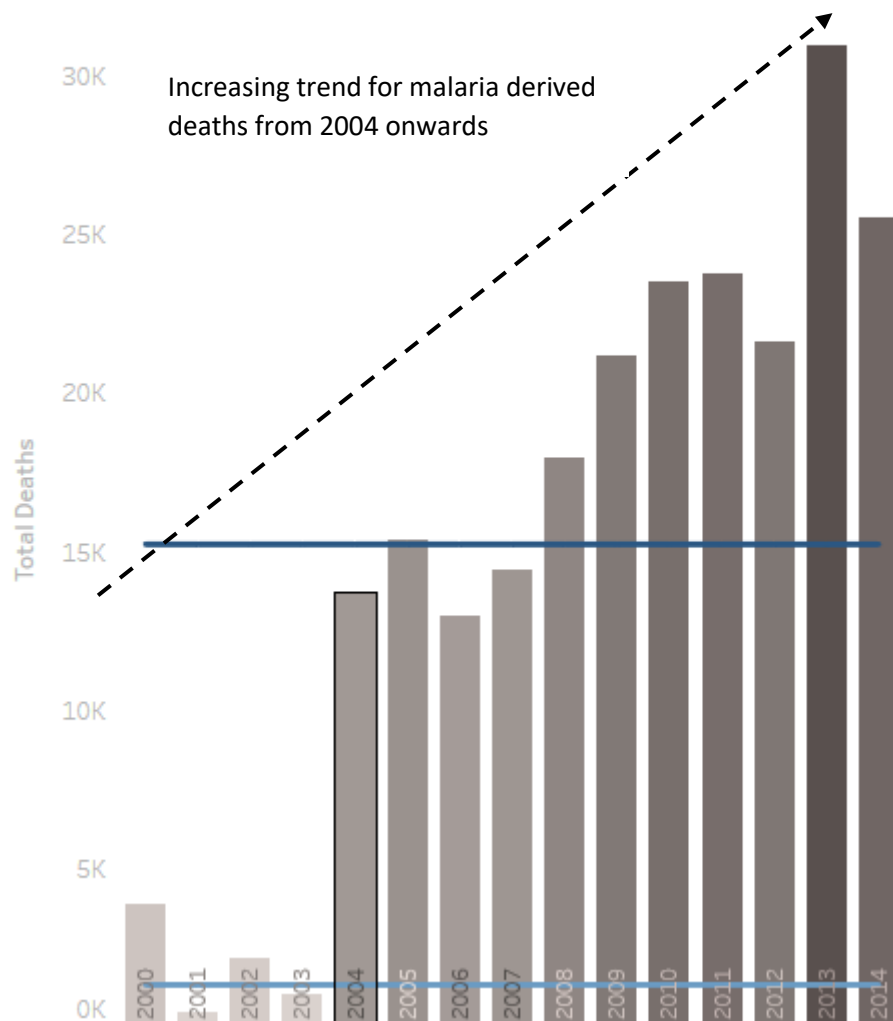

Information was obtained by clicking on the country of interest and the following graph of prevalence of malaria deaths for each year was obtained

How have the number of malaria deaths changed over time in Kenya?

Deaths per year tended to decrease from 2000-2010 and then there was a dramatic decrease in number from 2011 onwards.

How have the number of malaria deaths changed over time in Democratic Republic of the Congo?

Similar method used for gaining information for Democratic Republic of Congo of clicking on country and observing deaths per year for each year. Here it can be seen that there has been a significant increase in deaths since 2004.